

Superheroes VS Mummies

The superheroes were on vacation at the pyramids. They were going inside the pyramids when a mummy jumped out and grabbed the leader, and the leader turned into a mummy. Then all the superheroes had to fight the monsters without the leader. So they packed their daggers and swords and capes and put them on, and started to follow the mummy. They used their swords and daggers to cut the toilet paper off the mummy and they got their leader. They figured out that the Mummy was really the Princess. The superheroes decided that they never would go into a pyramid ever again.
