Part One. The Monster Monster Truck.

The superheroes were at a Monster Truck place. Suddenly a Monster truck jumped out of nowhere. So, they pulled out their capes and daggers and fought the Monster Truck. They went inside the Monster Truck, and Henry said, "Of course it is, it's the secret Princess of Japan".

Part two. The Unstoppable Monster

So, they finally finished fighting the Monster Truck. But out of nowhere a Monster jumped through the wall, as something they never saw before. It was 9,999 trillion giraffes stacked on each other; it was a Mack. It was wrapped in toilet paper. If it touched you, you would turn into one and it had a wheel. It could go through anything. It was something like all the things they had fought before combined. They used their capes, daggers, swords, cannons, and guns to fight it, but nothing worked on it. So, they did the same thing over again, and fought it, but did not stop it. The monster ate the superheros. And it's saliva started to connect and it made a candle. Fred grabbed the candle. They walked out of the monster's tongue, they pulled his tongue and yanked on its vocal cords. And finally defeated it.

The government gave them the biggest hideout of all
