The superheroes were taking a tour and they saw a temple. The tour lady said, "Anyone who goes in this temple for 24 hours and does not come out after 24 hours will turn into a ghost permanently. We better head back it's getting dark."

Fred said, we need to keep people from going into that temple. 5 hours later, the tour lady came back and found that the superheroes were still there. She said, I'm the bad girl, she kicked the superheroes into the temple and knocked them in. Fred said "No, we got trapped in! Wait, back at headquarters I saw a map on the Chrystal from when we were fighting the Secret Princess of Japan. The scroll said you have to get out before sunrise from the haunted temple. So we better make it quick."

They started walking farther in. They saw the monster sleeping. Fred said "Be quiet". So they kept going in farther into the temple. They saw the attic, there were only 5 more minutes until sunrise. Henry said "Fred, grab the haunted scroll and get out of here!" They started running, when they landed on the ladder someone tripped and dropped the scroll. The others kept running, 10 more seconds until someone is going to be ghost. Fred grabbed the scroll and the the clock started counting down: 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 ! Fred tripped and did not make it. He went out, he said "why are you guys looking at me like that?" And then he looked at his hand and said, "No! I'm a, I'm a ghost!"

They went home, and Fred was sitting in bed. Henry said, “I’m sorry you turned into a ghost”. Fred tried to pick up tea mug, “See, I can’t pick it up, my hand goes straight through.
